

Judge Christopher G. Seldin: Professional Background and Legal Expertise

9th Judicial District Court of Colorado,

Appointed By: Gov. John W. Hickenlooper, Jr.

Biography

Hon. Christopher G. Seldin is a judge for the 9th Judicial District Court of Colorado. He was appointed to the bench by former Governor John Hickenlooper in 2015, filling the vacancy created by the retirement of the Hon. Gaily Nichols (Ret.).

The 9th Judicial District includes the Garfield, Pitkin, and Rio Blanco Counties.

Prior to his appointment, Seldin worked as an assistant county attorney with the Pitkin County Attorney's Office since 2002. During that time, his caseload included cases involving property damage, land use claims, and oil and gas law, including the Thompson Divide-related oil and gas leases. Before that, he practiced at an international law firm for two years.

Seldin received a B.A. from Dartmouth College. He then worked for three years as a researcher for a public interest law firm in Denver before completing a J.D. at the University of California, Berkeley School of Law in 1999. While a law student, he served as articles editor of the California Law Review.

He was admitted to practice in Colorado (2000) and California (2000).

After graduating from law school, Seldin began his legal career as a law clerk to the Hon Gregory J. Hobbs, Jr. with the Colorado Supreme Court.

He served as a member of the Basalt Town Council and sat on the boards of two nonprofit organizations.

Seldin was raised in Durango, Colorado, where he attended Durango High School and was a member of the cross-country ski team.
